Note

Silas Hertzler was born near Baldwin, Maryland in 1888 to Amish parents, Joseph K. and Nancy J. Miller Hertzler. In 1924, he married Anna Weaver, and together they had five children.

Hertzler graduated Goshen College with a B. A. in 1913 and Yale University with a B. D. in 1917. He also received a masters in psychology from Columbia University Teachers College in 1918 and a Ph.D. in psychology from Yale University. Other educational institutions he attended include Garrett Biblical Institute, Northwestern University, the University of Chicago, the University of Minnesota, and Union Theological Seminary.

Hertzler taught high school in Manitoba from 1913 to 1915. From 1919 to 1920, Hertzler served with the American Friends Service Committee at an orphanage in Syria that served refugee children of the Armenian genocide.

He was a member of the Goshen College faculty from 1920 to 1958. He served in a number of positions at the college, including principal of the academy, registrar, director of teacher education, and professor of education and psychology. He taught mathematics in Oslo Township Junior High School (near Elkhart, Indiana) from 1958 to 1960, and at Tabor College from 1960 to 1964.

Series: Diaries

Title: Diaries

Date: 1904-1974 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

This series consists primarily of Silas Hertzler's diaries, which contain detailed entries about his daily activities. Silas's diaries span the years 1904 to 1974, with a gap only for one year (1911). Silas Hertzler kept separate diaries of trips and other special events, and a number of these may be found in this series as well. By contrast, this series contains only one diary kept by Anna Weaver Hertzler, for the year 1962. Researchers should note that this series contains Silas Hertzler's diaries during his period of service with Near East Relief under the American Friends Service Committee (1919-1920).
